FYI, a few words about Racing....

Straight racing is somewhat different from Lure Coursing. To run a successful race meet, participation is a requisite – and an enjoyable way to spend the day while racing. Numerous officials are required: Foul Judges, Finish Judges, Inspection Committee, Starters, so please participate in whichever capacity you would find most rewarding.

- Inspection Committee consists of 2 people who inspect entries at Roll Call. This includes checking for bitches in season, lameness, and adequacy of muzzles. Inspection committee is welcome to participate in other functions as well.
- Starter (and assistant Starter) consists of 2 people, who make sure people get to the line race ready, check each dog’s equipment, make sure dogs have the correct blankets and are properly muzzled, and help load dogs into the boxes. They may also briefly tease the dogs with the lure, then release the dogs once the lure starts moving. For dogs being hand slipped, the Starter also calls the TallyHo! and watches for, and calls pre-slips. Starter(s) may double as Foul Judges.
- Foul Judges consist of a minimum 4 people, equally spaced along the track. Their job is to watch the dogs for interfering with another dog either playfully or aggressively. If there is interference, it’s the foul judge’s job to report the incident to the race secretary.
- Finish Judges consist of a minimum 2 people. They are at the finish line, one on either side of the track. At the end of each race, each judge should immediately record the order of the finish using either blanket colour or number, without conferring with each other or anyone else.

The Race Program

There are 3 Programs of racing in a CARA race meet. All races shall be maximum 4 dog races. Dogs run within their breed; however, for 1 dog entries, mixed stakes may be run at the discretion of the handlers. Whippets and Greyhounds will be box started. All other breeds may be box started or hand slipped, to be decided by handler vote. A dog that’s pre-slipped is automatically placed last in its race.

If the majority of participants are new to CARA Straight Racing, dogs may be randomly drawn into races with dogs of contrasting abilities. After the first race, dogs should end up in races where they’re more evenly matched.

Dogs that have not been certified may only run as “Singles”.

The Straight is 200 yards, with a 50+ yard run-out. A drag line, with either a squawker or plastic bag(s) will be used as lure.
